The Mt. Washington Pediatric Hospital Infusion Service provides intravenous (IV) therapies to pediatric patients in a convenient outpatient setting. Our team approach to pediatric infusion therapy allows us to provide exceptional care for each child.

The Infusion Team

Our multidisciplinary team is composed of pediatric specialists from medicine, nursing, child life, and pharmacy:

- Our medical staff is made up of physicians and nurse practitioners. A member of the medical staff is immediately available for each child for the duration of each treatment or study.
- Our registered nurses are highly trained in pediatric IV therapy and medication safety. The nurses provide ongoing assessment, treatment and education
- Our child life specialists are available to provide play therapy and procedural support to alleviate anxiety surrounding the visit.
- Our clinical pharmacists work exclusively with pediatric patients and are experienced with pediatric dosing.

Infusion Services

The Infusion Services are available to patients with a variety of needs ranging from multiple visit IV medication therapy to single infusion for diagnostic testing. Additionally, an on-site laboratory provides the services for any laboratory testing that may be required in conjunction with an infusion.

Location

The services are provided in the Rosenberg Building on the Mt. Washington Pediatric Hospital's Baltimore campus. The Rosenberg Building, with its award winning interior design, is a child friendly and cheerful setting in the heart of the Mount Washington residential district on 23 wooded acres.

- Easily accessible: directly off the Jones Falls Expressway (I-83) at exit 10B Northern Parkway West.
- A spacious waiting room to accommodate parents and siblings.
- A family education center.
- Free parking.

Our Goal

Our goal is to make the infusion experience safe and comfortable as possible for your child.
